Do you find that the tracking of your customer job-orders as well as your branches are taking away your time from taking critical management decisions? Is it a foregone conclusion that the inventory in your organisation is seldom tracked, resulting in endless pilferage? If your answer is in the affirmative then our product - mPrintAW (Mamre Print Application Workflow) could be the panacea for your issues.

Introduction

mPrintAW can be used by any digital printing press for tracking their customer job-orders, generating invoices, daybook tracking, payment & receipt tracking, inventory management and MIS reports. The primary role of the system is to create job-orders, generate invoice and track the job order until delivery is done. The system can manage flex printing in addition to paper printing. The system can handle multiple branches. The system has a gamut of MIS reports that will give information at your finger tips. mPrintAW handles both paper as well as flex printing.
